NOVEMBER 1971

CABLE RELEASE

WELCOME!

Well, we have 150 members in the Silver Spring Camera Club, so we have to close the membership. If you have friends who'd like to join, have them get in touch with Ira Penn, who's already started a new waiting list for next year. Hope all the new members (and the old ones, of course) will enjoy the year ahead. Since our space is so limited at the Library, please try to bring no more than two guests a year.

Even with all those members, we still have jobs open We need a color chairman and a hostess. At the last meeting Len Tuchin reminded us that if no one volunteers as hostess, we may all be bringing our own coffee to the meetings.

I'd hoped to change the Cable Release this year -- expand it to cover more than just what's happening at our meetings. I asked in the last issue that anyone who knew about outside competitions, shows and courses please let me know so I can list them and let all the members know. You'd get something a lot more interesting in the mail each month if you'd all be on the lookout for photographic events.

NOVEMBER WORKSHOPS

COLOR - 11/4
Frank Di Blasi -- Using the Repronar to improve color slides.

B & W - 11/18
Lauren J. Rueger -- Homemade tools and aids for the darkroom.

COLOR STUDY GROUP

The November color slide workshop will be held at the home of Steve and Dorothy King on Meadowood Drive in Silver Spring, November 11 at 8:00 p.m.

George Winnett will talk about his experiences at the John Doscher School of Photography at South Woodstock, Vermont.

Additionally, the program will include a color slide critique.

On the yellow print sticker, fill in the title, club and maker.

On your slides, put your name on the emulsion side only and place the thumbmark sticker so that it appears at the lower left when viewed.

In addition, list on paper the class and titles of your entries and also your name.

Two assistants are needed for the competition, and the job doesn't involve much work. Please let Al Tanenholtz know if you can help by November 1.

PSA

Working in black and white, color slides or color prints? You can add a new dimension to your photography by competing in international salons. You submit 4 entries in each category in which you are interested; your work competes with photographs from all over the world. Getting an acceptance is an honor. Your rewards -- satisfaction when your work is judged "in," improvement in the quality of your work, raising of your sights. You also learn about photographers from other states and other countries, and about centers of photographic activity elsewhere. There can be honors, too. For example, two of our members have been among the top 50 exhibitors in the world in monochromatic; another is among the world's leading color print and nature exhibitors and has won an unbelievable number of trophies, medals and honors. The fee (see your PSA Journal) helps to pay part of the cost of printing salon catalogues and postage for mailing your entries to you or to another salon. The procedure for entry is simple. Refer to the PSA Journal for the advance listing of salons. Write for salon entry forms. Complete these forms and send in your pictures.
