COLOR MEETING

November 6                      Aspen Hill Library
7:45 P.M.

Topic: SPACE PHOTOGRAPHY
Dr. Paul Lowman, NASA

Dr. Lowman will present a program on color slides taken from space. He will discuss cameras and special techniques for space photography. Dr. Lowman is a geologist, and he will discuss the scientific significance of the pictures he presents.

WORKSHOP: Want to improve your slides? Bring some and let our panel of experts show you how they might be improved. This is your opportunity to ask questions. Your workshop chairman will collect the slides at the beginning of the color meeting.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING held on Thurs., October 23 at the home of Emerson Gray was devoted largely to the problem of how to balance the budget in the face of increased Club services and costs without an increase in revenues. The matter is still under study. A course of action will be determined soon.

Future Executive Board Meetings are scheduled for the fourth Thursday in January and April 1976.

PLEASE DO NOT SMOKE IN MEETING ROOMS. Very few of our members do so, but just one or two smokers can cause great discomfort to sensitive individuals in a crowded room. If you must smoke during the meeting, please step outside to do so.

OUR SPECIAL THANKS to Wayne Hill who held us spellbound with his very informative talk on "Portraiture" at our October 16 meeting. And thanks to Program Chairman Dick Thompson for arranging such a fine meeting.

MONOCHROME MEETING

November 20                      Silver Spring
7:45 P.M.                          Library

Topic - "Selling your Photos"
Mr. Marion Warren
M. E. Warren Photography,
Annapolis

Marion Warren has been a professional photographer for 35 years; his activities have ranged from newspaper to portrait and wedding photography. He currently specializes in industrial photography, audio visual program development, and market stock photographs. Mr. Warren is no stranger to Washington, D.C. or the Silver Spring Camera Club. He served in the D.C. area during WW II as a Navy photographer, and currently resides in Annapolis. He has authored two books concerning Annapolis: "Annapolis Adventure" and "The Train's Done Been and Gone" which will soon be released. Mr. Warren will discuss the techniques and considerations involved in creating "salable" photographs. He will judge the print competition for the evening.

WORKSHOP: Len Harris will mount a print in 30 seconds or less in front of your very eyes.

SSCC COLOR PRINT COMPETITIONS are held on the third Thursday of December, February, and April, jointly with Monochrome Print Competitions, as now scheduled. Subject matter for Color Prints is always OPEN. A strong color print response by members may make changes in this schedule desirable.

SUBJECT MATTER FOR COLOR SLIDE AND MONOCHROME PRINT COMPETITIONS

WINNER IN SNAPSHOT FINALS

The final winners in the Amateur Snapshot contest have been announced in Rochester, N.Y., and first place in slides was won by Dr. Joe Atchinson of Alexandria, Va., a former Silver Spring Camera Club member. Dr. Atchinson gives this advice to fellow photographers: "if you like a slide and a judge doesn't, don't give up on it; enter it again." His winner - a rim lighted girl walking across the sand dunes at Nags Head, was taken last August and entered the last week of the Star contest in 1974. It was entered this year and won first place in the Star finals, and now has won the grand prize in slides at Rochester.

You may enter only one class in either Monochrome and/or Color Print divisions. Prints on board no larger than 16x20.

The print classes for monochrome are the same as for the SSCC. Color print classes are: (1) Small - 8 x 10 or smaller.

(2) Unlimited

Color transparency division: (1) Pictorial, (2) Nature, (3) People and events, (4) Novice - open only to those who have had not more than one honorable mention in GWCCC slide competition, (5) Experimental.

For more information, see or call Garry Kreizman at 384-4911.

Photo Research International (Photri) is a photo agency with clients in 25 countries and the United States. To meet the needs of publishers, educators, advertisers, and other clients for photographs and film strips, Photri maintains a huge stock file of carefully indexed and cross-referenced color slides and black-and-white prints on a variety of subjects that cover virtually the entire human experience - from agriculture and art to transportation and weather.

Photri will accept any number of color slides and 8 x 10 glossy black-and-white prints for their stock file from photographers who will leave their photos on file for at least two or three years. When the photo is sold, the photographer gets 50% of the fee. Typical fees range from $25-35 for a B&W print up to $85 for a color slide, with photos of special interest bringing $150-200. Super situations and photos for large advertisers might be worth up to $1500 on special assignments. Jack Novak, Photri president, points out that you never know when your photo may be the one needed. If interested, call him at 836-4439. The address is: Box 971, Alexandria, Va. 22313.
