SSCC HOSTS PHOTO ARTIST CHARLES W. FEIL III

As you listen to Chuck Feil this Thurs. evening you will become aware that he is a man of distinction--educated, articulate, personable and interesting. As you view and study his photography you will recognize the talent and dedication of the true artist. By the end of the evening you will be most happy that you spent it at SSCC.

Chuck Feil is a freelance photographer operating from his Mulberry Studio in Washington Grove. His formal education was in art and philosophy at the University of New Mexico. Before returning to Washington in 1975 Chuck worked with Jane Goodall in Africa as a cinematographer on her wildlife films. His still photography experience includes photojournalism, advertising, corporate publication, and magazine work. He has also exhibited in numerous photo shows and galleries throughout the U.S. You have probably seen his famous clown series. See you Thursday! Visitors welcome.

EXHIBITS

A photography exhibit by Linda Bartlett on Ireland is now being shown at Woodfin Camp Photographic Gallery at 925 and one half F Street, NW.

The show comprises 40 color prints based on Bartlett's two different visual experiences in Ireland. The photos include a freelance interpretation of the striving for normality and reconciliation in Northern Ireland and photos of the Dingle Peninsula which appeared in the April 1976 issue of National Geographic.

The exhibition runs through the month of April. Call 638-5705 for further details.
